

The End of the World

If the end of the world was upon us would you pray right up into the sky or would you blacken your heart let it tear you apart to a place you can dwell because reigning in hell is much better than serving in heaven